MCAA learning platform

 > MCAA learning program

MCAA learning program

At the MCAA we value lifelong career development. Regardless of the career stage, whether students or established professionals, there is always a need to acquire new skills and learn or update knowledge to progress in our careers.

That's why, regardless of whether you are a researcher or took a different career path, the MCAA is happy to offer you free access to the learning platform Coursera.

To make your life easier, we have worked with Coursera to propose several learning tracks. But you can simply choose the courses you want among 7000+ courses from 275+ leading universities and companies, organised into the following main categories:

Data Science - Business - Computer Science - Information Technology - Language Learning - Health - Personal Development - Physical Science and Engineering - Social Sciences - Arts and Humanities - Math and Logic

Access conditions:

Licenses are exclusively allocated to MCAA members with updated and complete profiles.

A limited number of licenses are available. To increase the number of members that can benefit from this opportunity licenses are allocated in 3 months cohorts.

Every 3 months a new cohort of MCAA members will be given access to the platform and can use it freely until the end of the respective cohort period.
